LIT TLE RAV EN INK TO BER

I participated in #litteraveninktober last year as well, completing all 32 prompts. It was something I decided to dedicate my "off-camera" creative time to and I approached the list with simple Copic marker and blue gel pen illustrations. I really like how they came out and it was really fun to interpret another Artist's prompts. The drawings weren't very detailed so I got through the list quite quickly and then re-focused my "off-camera" time to more Whimsy-ween work. At one point I felt a little guilty for completing this list and the "Daisy" list, but not the Whimsyween list. In my defence, sometimes you can spend so much time with your own thoughts and ideas that you become a little sick of them! Haha, sad, but true...
