

Below are all the other pages in the journal that have some work on them and are awaiting new ideas. A lot of what you see here is easy to replicate, so if you're looking for a simple reference try to re-create a spread from this PDF. Random side note, but I notice all the scans next to each other really show how I favored the black ink! In fact 15 of the 36 images on these PDF's have that ink on it (That's about 42%!). I know that means nothing to most people reading this but I do love to reflect on the process and notice shifts in my Creative Journey. Anyway, enjoy the PDF's and the Video - I hope it helps if you struggle like I do!

