DOWN THE RABBIT HOLE

PERSPECTIVE PLAYING CARD VIDEO TUTORIAL

Here is a closer look at the final art journal page. I used a variety of mediums and played off of the perspective and whimsy of Wonderland by sizing up the typically smaller objects (mushrooms, leaves, hair ribbon, flowers + playing cards) and sizing down the larger ones (Alice and White Rabbit, both stickers and not my original art *credit unknown). The mix of proportions helps to add a sense of fantasy, so have a go at switching the sizes of different parts of your final piece and see what happens. I also masked off a border with tape for a neat final presentation in my journal, but that's just a personal phase I'm going through again... I'm not typically that precious!
